

Raise 300 to 500 Chicks in One Flock

Buy or hatch at one time all the chicks you will need for the year. Then with the Candee Colony Brooder, raise 300 to 500 in one flock in one house—attend only one heater—buy coal for but one fire—and save labor, fuel, chicks and money.

Because it is coal burning and self-regulating and gives the chicks a correct heat all the time, you will raise the biggest percentage of your birds with no worry, no trouble and at an expense of but a few cents a day for coal.

With the Big Coal-Burning Cast Iron Colony Brooder

Every thing about the Candee is big. Its grate is 12 inches in diameter, a safe size; its boiler is 28 1/2 inches high—as high as a table or desk—and 13 feet 7 inches in circumference; the section of its boiler, that turns around out of the way for tending the fire and cleaning, is 38 1/2 inches wide and gives plenty of room for the operator to get to the heater.

And best of all, its heater is all cast iron, built for real business and to last a lifetime. It comes to you all assembled ready to set up and put to work.

Its guaranteed all-wool-woven felt curtain extends nearly to the floor, and positively directs the heated air down over the backs of the chicks; and it saves fuel because, with the felt curtain, you don't have to heat the whole room to keep the chicks warm.

With the Candee, there is no danger of your buildings catching fire—it has a special safety grate shaker and a sealed base that prevent hot coals falling into the litter. Its coal magazine feeds the fuel to the fire evenly and continuously, and the Candee heater requires attention only once or twice a day.

You are invited to visit my poultry plant to see the Candee Colony Brooder, and to see for yourself why it will save you labor and fuel, raise more of your chicks and increase your profits.

Scene From The Greatest Melodrama, "The Whip"
Auditorium Theatre, Toledo, Week of March 23d
Matinees Wednesday and Thursday

MRS. MARY DEWITT BILES.

The news of the death of Mrs. DeWitt Biles at her home in Fostoria last Wednesday afternoon came as a shock to her many friends in Wauseon and vicinity. Mrs. Biles was taken seriously ill Wednesday afternoon with heart trouble, her daughter, Mrs. Biles, being notified and started at once for Fostoria but her mother had passed away before she could reach her bedside. It was only a few weeks ago that Mrs. Biles was in Wauseon, apparently in the best of health and enjoying meeting her many old friends and neighbors. It was during her stay here that her 68th birthday anniversary was celebrated and to all outward appearances she was good for twenty years more of her happy and useful life. Mrs. Biles had many interests in life from her girlhood she was a member of the Methodist church and always took an active interest in the work and services of her church. She was also active as a member of the G. A. R. Women's Relief Corps, at the time of her decease she was serving her second term as president of the Wauseon branch of the G. A. R. Mrs. Biles has not been a resident of Wauseon since 1890 she never lost her interest in or severed the friendships here which were formed during her more than twenty years residence in this place.

Mrs. Mary Salabank was born in England, February 12th, 1847; her father died shortly after her birth and when she was seven years old she came with her mother and two other children of a family of six to Monroeville, Ohio, where they had relatives. She lived in Monroeville until her marriage in 1865 to Henry DeWitt shortly after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt came to Wauseon where they made their home and lived for twenty years. To them were born two children, Mrs. DeWitt died in 1888 and two years later Mrs. DeWitt was united in marriage to Mr. Godfrey Biles of Fostoria caring for his two small children as though they were her own. Mrs. Biles was again left a widow about two years ago by the decease of Mr. Biles. Mrs. Biles leaves to mourn their loss, besides her two children already named, two stepchildren, Mrs. Gertrude Shimer of Los Angeles, California, and Fred Biles of Elkhart, Ohio, one brother, Joseph Salabank of Wauseon and one sister, Mrs. Sarah Mansel of England.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church in Fostoria, Friday morning last and the remains were brought to Wauseon, to the home of Mrs. Biles, on East Leggett street where services were held on Sunday afternoon conducted by Rev. D. F. Helms of Toledo, a former pastor of Mrs. Biles. Interment was made in Wauseon cemetery.

The following from out-of-town attended the funeral services Sunday afternoon: C. F. DeWitt and wife and Clarence and Duane DeWitt of Wyandotte, Michigan; Mr. Harry DeWitt of Detroit, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Salabank of Norwalk, Ohio; Mrs. Will Salabank of Toledo, Ohio; Miss Lou Raitard, Mr. Frank DeWitt, Mrs. Bestun, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Waerner, Mrs. Lucy Sivers, Mrs. Lillie Middleman, Mrs. Mary DeWitt of Toledo, Mrs. Lewis Overmier, Mrs. John McNally, Mrs. M. S. Munna, Mrs. Robert Shields and Mrs. Amarantha Kiser of Fostoria, Ohio, and Mrs. Sam Patrick of Leipsic, Ohio.

Words cannot express our sincere thanks to all who so kindly assisted us in our sad bereavement and also for the many beautiful flowers. Your many acts of kindness shall never be forgotten.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Crew
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. DeWitt

Ever Hear of a Funeral Pyre Saving a Man's Life?

This was intended to be a funeral pyre. But it did two inconsistent things. First—Saved Alan Law's life instead of taking it. Second—Kept a woman's heart from breaking.

A way you can find out "how"—read the story.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

Fulton County Ohio

C. K. Miller, President
J. F. Outalt, W. C. Hoch
W. H. McClure, W. J. Weber
C. J. Blyer, County Superintendent

CONTINUING THE SUBJECT of the standardization of village and consolidated schools we give the following requirements for ranking village and consolidated schools as first grade:

- (a), (b), (c), (d), same requirements as rural first grade schools.
- (e) Library of not less than 150 volumes.
- (f) 100 square feet of slate or composition blackboard. The lower margin of not less than twelve feet of which board, shall be within two feet of the floor.
- (g) A system of heating with ventilation—minimum a jacketed stove.
- (h) Buildings hereafter constructed to have at least three acres of land in connection with each school for agriculture and school garden purposes.
- (i) Three rooms and three teachers or more on full time, one teacher to have at least a three-year certificate.
- (j) A course in domestic science.
- (k) Two teachers to be employed for ten months each, one teaching agriculture during the school term and to supervise the agriculture during part of the vacation. The other to teach domestic science during the school term and to supervise domestic science in vacation during part of the vacation.
- (l) Agriculture and domestic science apparatus to the value of at least one hundred dollars.

It will be noticed that the requirements are considerably higher for village school than for rural schools, but the state aid is also greater: first grade rural schools get $25 annually from the state and first grade village schools receive annual state aid to the amount of $50.

As a financial investment the proposition is a good one for any school board. From $100 to $300 will fit up any school, rural or village in the county. An investment of $100 that will divide itself into $25 annually means a rate of 25 per cent. interest for the money. But the distinction that a first grade school will confer upon the community, the interest of the parents and pupils which it will foster and the added educational advantages which it will afford the children, although these cannot be measured in dollars and cents, amount to much more than 25 per cent on the investment.

"THE WHIP"

"The Whip" the great Drury Lane melodrama which enjoyed a two years run at the hands of an enthusiastic public on the other side and a year's stay in New York at the Manhattan Opera House, is just chock full of thrills. In this sensational melodrama which comes to the Auditorium Theatre, Toledo, week of March 21, there is a matinee Wednesday and Saturday, there is a continuous sequence of excitement.

In the first scene the handsome hero is thrown out of an automobile, suffering a compound fracture of the memory. In the second scene, when he has been nursed to health by Lady Diana, he is unjustly accused of having embraced marriage and the adventures at one and the same time. In the third scene, Lady Diana assures him that she still believes in him and advises him to bet his all on "The Whip" the fleetest mare in the Beverly stables. In the fourth scene the villain, who would like to marry Lady Diana, plans to wreck the train which is bringing the horse to the race course. In the fifth scene his plot is overheard by a trainer, who impersonating Dr. Crippen, the murderer in "J. Edgar" of the West, forces him to the sixth scene "The Whip" is brought down and placed in the box car, which is hitched to the rear of midnight express.

In the seventh scene the villain sneaks down the side of his coach, glides along the side rail to the rear throws away the signal lights and uncouples the box car. In the eighth scene the trainer reaches the scene of action, just in time, in a high powered automobile, and leads the horse down and across the track. In the ninth scene the 12:37 express crashes into the box car and there is a dreadful wreck. In the tenth scene only two men can ride "The Whip" and one of them is arrested through the plotting of the villain. In the eleventh scene Lady Diana appeals to the sporting feeling of the crowd. Are they going to stand by and see the race done? No, with a rush they brush the sheriff aside, toss the arrested jockey into the saddle, and in a twinkling the race is on—twelve horses straining at their bits and grinding the dirt beneath their flying feet. "The Whip" slowly forges ahead and wins by a head. In the thirteenth scene much is proved and the rest is forgiven. Lady Diana wins her hero.

SAYS NEWSPAPERS BRING BEST ADVERTISING RESULTS

"Newspapers are the best advertising mediums for a rural store because they bring direct results," said Ernest S. Jaros, publicity manager of a large Columbus department store, in a talk given before the advertising class of the Ohio State University last Wednesday. Mr. Jaros spoke of "Planning the Campaign," outlining the various things which must be taken into consideration in selling goods through publicity.

"Advertising in its present state cannot be regarded as a science," declared Mr. Jaros. "There are no iron-clad textbook principles laid down that the advertising man can adhere to. No two advertising campaigns can be conducted in exactly the same way." Mr. Jaros divided all publicity work into two kinds, general and definite. As an example of a general publicity medium, he gave electric signs. "The electric sign in front of a store, or a sign on a fence, to keep the name of the firm before the public," he said. "But when this same name is placed in a newspaper advertisement, together with an announcement or description of some article the store is offering for sale, the advertisement becomes definite and specific. Not only is the name placed before the public, but the advertisement also brings people into the store to buy something."

There are 50 members in the university advertising class in which Mr. Jaros spoke. Instruction is given the students in all branches of advertising work.

To The Housewife. Madam, if your husband is like most men he expects you to look after the health of yourself and children. Coughs and colds are the most common of the minor ailments and are most likely to lead to serious diseases. A child is much more likely to get a cold than an adult, and when it has a cold, if you will inquire into the merits of the various remedies that are recommended for coughs and colds, you will find that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy stands high in the estimation of people who use it. It is prompt and effective, pleasant and safe to take, which are qualities especially to be desired when a medicine is intended for children. For sale by all dealers.
